Our boat did not return; we sent our pinnacle with the men armed, to see what was the occasion of the yawl's stay; for we were afraid that the Spaniards had a garrison there, and might have seized them. We put out a signal for our boat, and the Duchess showed a French ensign. Immediately our pinnacle returned from the shore, and brought abundance of cray-fish, with a man clothed in goats skins, who looked wilder than the first owners of them. He had been on the island four Tears and four months, being left there by Captain Slradling in the Cinque-ports; his name was Albxandbb Selkirk, a Scotchman, who had been master of the Cinque-ports, a ship that came here last with Captain Damnier, who told me that this was the best man in her. I immediately...
