After 1 had been some time in the groves of Marriage, I met with troops of new acquaintance; Care and his numerous family were continually visiting me, nor did they keep away at all the more for my seeming not to admire their company. Sickness, a fell monster, kept me chained to my bed for a considerable time, and almost baffled the strength of MediCine and Patience, two very powerful giants, to overcome him. In short, I saw Simplicity and Affection hang down their heads with sorrow, for the mischiefs they had unwittingly brought upon me. Time stole away imperceptibly, and having overcome some of these difficulties, Reflection stood before me, and at her right hand I perceived my old friend Experience, that had so friendly offered me her assistance in my earlier days, and whose advice I had so thoughtlessly abandoned, because...
